To the Officers and Members of although only three theaters employed stage bands at all. Was that fair to the theaters who had no stagehands? We ask in view of this indisputable statement backed by the unimpeachable endence, is not organized labor unfair to the theaters rather than the theaters unlair to organized labor?

Concerning the Boycott.

Is labor fair to Oklahoma City in declaring a hoycott, at command mini-citizen agitators, against all business houses whose employes may yenture to arrend performances in theaters where managers ask no more than a square deal and who are fighting to give Oklahoma City clean, wholesome, enjoyable and high-class amuse-

Union pickets, evidently sincere in their conception of duty but working under the impiration of incendiary and irresponsible agitators, are patroll ing in front of affected theaters, and exerciting unamerican methods to turn away prospective patrons. In practically no instance has any picket been at all affected by this stagehands' strike, me loss may been attiliated in any manner leget fore with the stage We want to impress this:

Defining Agitators.

The most active, malicious am vindictive operators against the peace ful and legitimate business pursuit a Oklahoma City's theaters are people who do not live here and have nothing to lose, or those whose formers were tottering on the brink of ruin; or those who were not in the least affected by the stagebands' strike!
